How are you going to transfer the funding to the Champions?
Will they have access to a bank account?
Or do they need parental support?

What could happen to the Champions if they travel home with the money?

Or what happens if other people know that they received this amount of money to set up their own projects?

What could happen if the money, meant for the seed grant, is needed by Champions families?

What does my organisation do in terms of safeguarding?

Do we have a safeguarding policy?
If yes, does this policy include working with this group of Champions? And their participants?

Do we have all practices in place to provide a safe space to the Champions?

And have we thought of mitigation strategies for these specific risks (for example the example of money) that could occur?
